troduce and fasten upon our country a theo-democracy of which a religious sect, however numerous or well supported, are to be the exclusive office holders and sole recipients of all the emoluments arising therefrom, they can never breems encounful with the American people When the constitu. tion was framed, it was considered safer to allow each State to form and govern its own domes-· tic relations, restricted only by auch limits as the several States delegated to the general Congress power to legally prescribe, than ly permitting the exercise of toomulimited powers, making Congressional decisions so far arbitrary as to pave the way for the introduction of a centralization policy adverse to the great doctrines of liberty, so essential to the existence and progress of a truly Republican Government.

When the Pilgrim Fathers settled on the soil of Columbia, their songs of gratitude ascended to the throne of Deity for deliverance from the thraldom of kingly oppression, and their resolves were made to stand firmly by each other in the establishment and defense of those great principles of civil and religious liberty, the Magna Charta of which was the only altar at whose political shring they purposed to bow. The terrible bugbear born of the union of Church and State they execrated with a loathing impossible to realize by any but those whose lives have been jeopardized, liberties curtailed, or property confiscated, to satiste its rapacious and inexorable c'aims The sentiments that governed them were transmitted to their posterity and shared by subsequent immigrants from their father lands, and from other European despotisms. With the growth of population, there was a growth of power to sustain this despothating spirit, and an increase of knowledge and union, productive of firm rosolves to permit the establishment on American soil of no organization, but such as would tend to the entire eradication of all traces of despotic conservatism, and the firm erection of a Temple of Liberty on the immovable basis of equal rights in which all men, of every color and of every creed, not antagonistic to the great doctrine of universal liberty, might worship with equal and inalienable rights.

The expounding of the Monroe doctrine, and its general acceptance with the American people, is a most conclusive evidence of the growth of the same spirit commensurate with the growth of the nation. Maximilian sits, even now Cuneusly upon his throne, and it does not appear impossible that the purple velvet and royal sceptre may yet be exchanged for a quiet domicile under the regime of the House of Hapsburg. Even the backing he has in the rson, influence, and soldiery of Napos the Brd, May prove insufficient to sustain the dignity of his usurped royalty, and even that great adventurer Napoleon, himself, discover, ere long that there is a will-power possessed by the advocates of the Monroe doctrine, which, though apparantly dormant now, may yet break forth in a terretit of such impetuous and tesistless energy, that even the wall of French and Austrian bayonets surrounding the Imperial antocrat will be shiver-Ichabod be the

THAT ROBBERT OF THE O. M. COACH .-Our Nevada and San Francisco exchanges are full of the particulars of that attack on the O. M. coach going west, last week, when near the suburbs of Virginia city, Nevada. It occurred in the cañon close to that town, at the hour of midnight. At a bend of the canon, the road was found blockaded with broken wagons, sluice-boxes, &c. Five "road gents," wearing masks, and well armed, appeared and ordered the passengers, eicht gentlemen and one lady, (most of whom were asleep.) to "throw up their bands' and "diegorge." Each of the passengers had no alternative to choose but "pungle" over. Yet some few of the inside passengers had presence of mind to bide their rolls of greenbacks down their boot-legs. The "rough gamblers" conducted the affair in business-like manner, by holding shot-guns and cocked revolvers bee the facial organs of their victime while the latter were unlocking their valises to find their funds. No violence was used, however. No "receipts" were asked or offered. After getting all the plunder portable, the robbers broke for the bluffs, without so much as bidding their victims either a "good night!" or "thank you." Wells, Fargo & Co's express box was smashed open with an axe, and robbed of $196 in coin and a revolver. A bullion brick, worth $750, was left to remain in the box, because too heavy for these plunderers to pack away with them.

The losses are as follows: J. L. Bachelor (of Boston) passenger going to San Francisco, was relieved of $1.300, in eurrency, gold watch etc.; C. H. Hicks. $325 in coin and a gold watch; E. S. Gross, $75 in coin and a gold watch; Mr. Foshay, from Boise.$50 in coin; E. F. Skinner. $88 in coin; and Chas. Crewell, $18 in coin. Total amount taken was about $2,350, and 3 gold watches. A "startling epitome on hard times and bad morals" at the metropolis of Silverland! The robbers evidently expected to find the O. M. Line Treasurer, and party (who laid over at Austin.) on-board that stage. The authorities are on the look out at Virginia, and the O. M. Co's Agent, Mr. Rumfield, has published a thousand dollars (in coin) reward, apiece, for the arrest and conviction of the perpetrators.

"There is apparently no lack of condence in the permanency of commercial values, and gold is an element which, at the present, seems to have very little to do with their regulation. except so far as it affects the cost of foreign products. This good feeting in trade circles, and the problem of con tinued high prices still puzzles many persons at the East, who supposed that values ought to come down to the same rutio and to the full extent of the decline in gold. But the mystery is easily solved if, with the eye of the practical economist, we take a broad survey of the commercial field. When to the items of tariff, taxation, a redundant currency, and the high cost of productive labor, we add the fact of that vast enlargement of the home markets cansed by a restoration of political and cammercial relations with the South, re turning, like the prodigal son, literally bare of the prime pecesities of life, we shall cease to be surprised that these necessaries command extreme prices.

The supplies of most kinds of merchandize, with production and importation temporarily restricted, appeared to be inadequate to the current demand, and at the above date the trade in New York was only checked by the limited supplies of all the leading kinds of produce and merchandize available. During the entire month of September, it is said that there never had been a time in the commercial bistory of that metropolis when their merchants experienced such diffculties in filling the orders of their customers, who represented all sections of the country and whose wants were unusually urgent. Most of the current business had been transacted on a cash basis, though credits were given in numerous instances for 30 and 60 days, and in rare cases for four months. There seemed to be very little discrimination in this respect against the South, advices from which speak quite encouragingly of the prospect of old indebtedness being liquidated to an extent surpassing the anticipations of most business men It is confidently believed that Augusta-Georgia, will pay dollar for dollar of anti-war obligations; Sayannah, 75 cts. on the dollar : New Orleans, about the same ; Mobile, 60 cts. on the dollar ; and Charleston, 40 to 50cts.'

This is the second anniversary of the organization of the Young Men's Literary Association of Salt Lake city, and is to be celebrated by a big ball this even ing at the new Independence Hall. The Association, per se. was a grand firststep in the march of " gentile" progress. and in the prosperity of enlightened civilization in this late stronghold of darkness and debauchment. Continued with a united effort, it has afforded a nucleus around which the respectable gentile immigrants. (the main men of enterprise among us, military and civic.) have from time to time rallied to the rescue of republican ideas and loval American principles, while both of which were being traduced and threatened by the bim guilty of conduct unbecoming an duped, dieloyal elements then here
